

Loud and Clear

Bold geometric forms in unexpected materials make a stand-alone statement

JEWELRY

WITH A NOD TO THE POLISHED geometry of Art Deco-era gems, today's high-end, new-establishment jewelers are experimenting with unusual technique, forms and materials. The marriage of odd metals (patinated copper, oxidized gold) and gems (amethyst, orange diamonds) makes for beautiful, wearable modernist sculptures.

CLOCKWISE FROM TOP: James de Givenchy for Taffin citrine bangle with mandarin garnets at back $45,000, F.D Aldo Cipullo gold and amethyst necklace $48,500, Jack Vartanian citrine and black diamond ring $4,400, VBH quartz and orange diamond ring $23,800, Hemmerle copper and tourmaline earrings, price upon request

FOR DETAILS, SEE SOURCES

Jewelry

Page 67

421-6222; F.D Aldo Cipullo amethyst and gold disc necklace, F.D. 212-772-2440;